MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director-Comptroller

SUBJECT : Staffing Complement Changes Proposed by Director,
Office of National Estimates

REFERENCE : (a) Memo for Exec Dir-Compt fr D/NE dtd
7 Jan 66, no subj - 66-75

(b) Memo for Exec Dir-Compt fr D/NE dtd
7 Jan 66, subj: Reclassification of the Job of the Executive Officer, ONE 66-77

1. This memorandum contains two recommendations submitted for your approval. Such recommendations are contained in paragraph 5.

2. In the referenced memorandum (a) the Director, Office of National Estimates requests three additional GS-16 positions of Regional Area Staff Chief be approved so that each of the seven Regional Area Staffs may have a supervisory position of equal grade. In referenced memorandum (b) the Director, ONE requests the reclassification of the job of Executive Officer, ONE to GS-17. The positions in both these proposals have been discussed with the Director, ONE and his representatives and extensively compared with existing and proposed positions in ONE and elsewhere in the Agency.

3. Regarding the Regional Area Staff Chief proposal, while this Office believes that seven GS-16 individuals may not be required at any one time for adequate staffing, from a classification standpoint GS-16 classification of the positions is warranted. Tab A reflects in more detail the job data considered and comparisons made, including specifically ORR, OSI, and OCI (see paragraph 7 of Tab A).

4. In the matter of the upgrading of the Executive Officer, there have been no changes in the job since it was established at GS-16. Considering its job content and by comparison with related Agency positions, this Office does not feel upgrading is warranted. Tab B reflects in more detail the factors leading to this conclusion.

5. It is recommended that:

- a. The Director, ONE's request for three additional Regional Area Staff Chiefs at GS-16 be approved.

ADDITION OF THREE GS-16 POSITIONS IN ESTIMATES STAFF, ONE

1. The Director, ONE has requested recognition of seven Area Staff Chief positions, each at GS-16.
2. This office initially recommended approval of five Area Staff Chiefs established at GS-16 in 1962. In 1964 one of these positions was deleted to provide for reassignment of a ceiling authorization to the Office of the Deputy Director for Intelligence.
3. Beginning in 1963 changes in organization based upon changes in work volume, areas of emphasis, and consumer requirements took place without corresponding changes in grade structure:
 - a. The Latin America-Africa Area became:
 - (1) The Latin America Area
 - (2) The Africa Area
 - b. The Eastern Europe Area became:
 - (1) The Soviet Military and Technical Area
 - (2) The Soviet Area (non-military)
4. Production of National Intelligence Estimates has risen from approximately 50 to 70 annually in the past five years. The Director, ONE states that three GS-16's in addition to the four presently established are necessary for most effectively dealing with the increased workload and changes in world situations, USIB requirements, the DCI's interests, etc., as reflected in the current Area subdivisions of the Regional Staffs.
5. The present and proposed structure and professional staffing needs are as follows:

Areas	Positions
a. Far East	(one incumbent detailed out)
b. Soviet Military and Technical	(one incumbent at Imperial Defense School, London)
c. Latin America
d. Near East
e. Soviet (non-military)	(one incumbent detailed out)
f. Western Europe

(This includes two positions (GS-15 and GS-14) the Budget Division, OPPB, informally states have been approved in the 1966 budget and one position (GS-16) stated to have been approved in the 1967 budget. None of these three have been formally requested for establishment on the Staffing Complement.)

There are three GS-16 incumbents on the current Staffing Complement, one of whom is attending [redacted] On his return, his place will be taken by another GS-16 for a year.

6. Historically, the top positions in the present Regional Areas were graded at GS-15 when ORR Division Chiefs and some OSI Division Chiefs were allocated at GS-15. In 1962 the Regional Area Chief grades were established at GS-16, the same level to which both ORR and OSI Division Chief grades were advanced in 1962 and earlier years.

7. Regional Area Staff Chiefs in ONE have been graded at GS-16 because of their directing and participating in the preparation, drafting, coordination, and review in draft form of National Intelligence Estimates, including reviewing and utilizing the contributions of USIB agencies as a basis for Estimates drafts. When Estimates are approved by USIB, they are viewed at highest government levels as the coordinated estimates of the Intelligence Community on the subjects with which they deal. Division Chiefs in ORR and OSI are graded at GS-16 because they direct the work of highly-graded specialists in economic, scientific, and engineering fields in intelligence production of a speculative-estimative nature, largely departmental, though they produce some basic and current intelligence. In OCI Division Chiefs are generally graded at GS-15 because they direct intelligence reporting of current events on a daily basis by relatively smaller groups of analysts who are not required to have the specialized and relatively scarce qualifications of ORR and OSI analysts nor to engage in speculative-estimative reporting. While the worker grades in ORR and OSI are higher, the larger number of supergrades established and proposed in OCI indicate that office has not been deprived of an equitable share of them. The ONE Regional Area Staff Chiefs are considered among the upper third of the GS-16's in the DD/I area, stronger than most of the NPIC and OBI and all of the OCR, DCS, [redacted] CGS, O/DD/I, and OCI positions established or proposed at GS-16.

STAT

8. Because the numbers of Regional Areas and personnel assigned have varied, and currently only three GS-16 incumbents are assigned to the four GS-16 positions already allocated, this office believes that in terms of personnel utilization seven GS-16 Chiefs may not be required. However, from the standpoint of classifying the jobs, there is no way of distinguishing among the seven Chief positions which are identical except for Area, and no way of allocating the same job responsibilities at differing grades. Accordingly, from a classification standpoint, this office considers the proposed jobs warrant GS-16.

The Executive Officer, ONE

1. This Office cannot substantiate the reclassification of the Executive Officer, ONE to GS-17.
2. The Director, ONE has confirmed the accuracy of the current description and indicated the job has not changed since it was established at GS-16 in 1963. The Executive Officer is the Office focal point for liaison with representatives of foreign intelligence services and for dealing with release of Office intelligence production. Such responsibility is found in other DD/I areas and OSI positions at grades ranging from GS-13 to GS-15. The Executive Officer is responsible for procedures affecting liaison, coordination within and outside the Agency, and internal office administration and directs the work of the Administrative Officer GS-12 and her subordinates in administrative fields supporting the substantive work of the smallest Office (70 positions) in the DD/I area. In other DD/I Offices, where positions range from approximately [] with correspondingly larger volumes of more varied and difficult administrative support problems, the Administrative Officers range from GS-13 to GS-15. 25X1
3. Within the Agency there are no positions above GS-16 at the Office level with responsibilities comparable to those of subject position. Some Agency positions concerned primarily with executive and administrative support are established or proposed at GS-16 at the Office or equivalent level (NPIC, Office of Security, Office of Communications, and a number of Support Staffs in DD/P Area Divisions and TSD), but the volume, variety, and difficulty of administrative work in these significantly larger and more complex components are so much greater as to preclude subject position's comparison as an equal.
4. Based on the foregoing, in comparison with related established or proposed supergrade positions and with executive officers in GS-14 and GS-15 positions in DD/I area Offices and OSI, and giving credit for management work affecting considerable coordination and liaison outside the Agency, this job is one of the weaker GS-16 positions in the DD/I area.
5. In view of these considerations, there is no basis in job content or comparison with related work in other Agency positions for classification support of the upgrading of subject position.
